JULY 31 NAMED FOR ALUMINUM CAMPAIGN HERE

Committee Will Meet on Thursday to Finish
Preparations

Parade Prior to Canvass of Homes Tentatively Scheduled

Holland housewives will begin poking around in cupboards and closets any day now in search of used aluminum kitchen utensils and articles to be collected during the local, one-day drive July 31 in connection with the national defense program project to release more aluminum for use in defense industries.

A meeting of the committee appointed by Mayor Henry Geerlings to head the local drive will be held in the council chambers of the city hall at 5 p.m. Thursday to arrange details of the drive. The goal for the city will probably be determined at this meeting, according to M. P. Russell, chairman of the project. Tentative plans include a parade and other exercises for July 31 and a talk by Mayor Geerlings to Camp Fire girls and Boy scouts who will aid in the collection.

The fact is stressed that Hollanders must not "rob themselves" of necessary aluminum utensils for the drive but contribute only those which are old or unused. A house-to-house canvass will be made by the Boy scouts and Camp Fire girls.

According to present plans, a large wire cage will be built in front of the city hall to be used as the local dumping place. At the conclusion of the local drive the aluminum will be stored in some safe place until word is received here of a state dumping center to which it can be sent. Competitive bidding for the sale of the aluminum will then be conducted by OPM officials.

Members of the local committee appointed by the mayor include E. P. Stephan, secretary-manager of the Chamber of Commerce; Harry Kramer, of the American Legion; Duncan Weaver, Rotary club; Dick Zwip, Kiwanis club; Cecil Van Duren, Lions club; Alex Van Zanten, Exchange club; David Boyd, representing the manufacturers; Bernard Arendshorst, common council representative; Mrs. Charles Van Duren, Woman's Literary club; Fred Sundin, Veterans of Foreign Wars; Mrs. Lloyd Reed, director of Camp Fire girls; William Vande Water, Boy scout commissioner; Mr. Russell, and Mayor Geerlings. Orville Bishop is publicity chairman. Arrangements for trucks to aid in the drive will be made by Mr. Kramer.

A list of articles suggested by the committee as contributions for the drive includes pots and pans, washing machines, vacuum cleaners, toys, shakers, picture frames, book ends, ash trays, measuring cups, soap dishes, camera equipment, kettles, double boilers, bottle and jar caps, refrigerator plates and electrical appliance parts.

Time for Hearing Set in Allegan Office Case

Allegan, July 24—Allegan Circuit Court Judge Fred T. Miles Monday set July 28 at 2 p.m. as the time for the hearing in the cases of Mayor Joseph F. Mosier and Alderman Floyd Rockwell.

Suits started against the two stating that their holding of two offices, that of serving on the city council and on the board of public works, constitutes an incompatibility.

Such a charge was denied in a reply filed last week by Leo Hoffman representing the two men. In the reply, Mosier stated that if the court ruled against him he will resign either or both of the offices.

Holland firemen extinguished a grass fire at the rear of the W. E. Dunn Mfg. Co., at 24th St. and Harrison Ave. at 9 a.m. Monday. They also extinguished a fire at the city dump at Fifth St. late Saturday afternoon. No damage was reported in either case.

DEFENSE STAMPS WILL BE SOLD BY CITY MERCHANTS

Holland merchants will sell defense stamps, it was decided at a meeting of the local Merchants' association in the Chamber of Commerce office Tuesday morning. Henry W. Wilson, chairman of the merchant committee in connection with the national defense program, presented the idea. John Van Tatenhove, president, presided. Other business was discussed.

Although a little later than most cities, the sale of defense stamps in Holland is getting under way, according to Frank M. Lievens, executive chairman for Holland.

A general meeting for all local committees will be held Monday night at 7:30 p.m. in the council chambers of the city hall, he said.

A joint meeting of the labor committee of which Jacob Bultman is chairman and the executive committee of which Henry Ketel is chairman was held Monday night in the city hall.

Intersection Crash
in Allegan

Allegan, July 24 (Special)—Benjamin Gray, 59, and his wife, 58, of Chicago were killed instantly early Tuesday when their car collided with another on country road 400, north of Lacot, near South Haven.

Their two children and grandson, who were riding with them, were seriously injured and were taken to the hospital together with George W. Eymour of South Haven, driver of the other car.

According to Dr. E. D. Osmun, Allegan county coroner, the Chicago couple entered the intersection of the main road from another county road without seeing the Eymour car. The Chicago car was going north and the Eymour vehicle was eastbound, according to Dr. Osmun.

The bodies were taken to the Calvins funeral home in South Haven.

ALLEGAN SETS UP DOG LAWS

Allegan, July 24—The Allegan city council Tuesday night adopted an ordinance prohibiting any dog owner to allow his animal to run at large in the city limits. The ordinance will become effective in 21 days.

The ordinance also provides that unlicensed dogs running at large in the city will be killed by city officials after being kept five days. Council will meet before the ordinance becomes effective to arrange a keeping place for the dogs during the five-day period.

Bert Terry was named manager of the Allegan municipal airport after being recommended by air enthusiasts who explained that his appointment would make the airport eligible for visits by the Dawn patrol and for listing with the state civil aeronautical authority.

Council also appropriated $50 to lease swimming rights in Littlejohn lake, a mile and a half west of Allegan, and approved placing the Russell St. sewer project up for public hearing in August.

TWO AUTOS CRASH NORTH OF HOLLAND

Cars driven by Mrs. Florence Lang, 38, of Chicago and Miss Adelaide Wetzler of Chicago were involved in an accident at 4:15 p.m. Sunday on US-31 about 300 feet north of the US-31 and Pine Creek road intersection.

According to the Ottawa county sheriff's department, Mrs. Lang was going north and Miss Wetzler was southbound when the right wheels of her car ran off the pavement and over a three-inch drop to the shoulder. She lost control of her car in attempting to bring it back on to pavement and crashed into the Lang car, damaging its entire left side. The front part of the Wetzler car was also badly damaged.

No one was hurt in the accident, but Mrs. Lang, suffering of shock, was taken to the hospital by the sheriff's department. She has since been released.

With Miss Wetzler were Miss Rose Grossveld and Mrs. Bernice Lies of Chicago. Mrs. Lang was traveling alone.

More Horses Registered in Castle's Junior Show

Committee Secures Two Women Judges for Saturday Event

More riders have entered the Castle Park Junior horse show already than were included in the whole 1939 show, it was announced here by Miss Margaret McLean, general chairman of the affair.

The 1941 show, which will be the second one for children under 18, will be held Saturday at 2 p.m. at the ring at Maplebrook farm, which is located on the outskirts of the Castle.

Miss McLean also announced that Mrs. James Blackwood of Rochester, Mich., and Miss Peggy Kirchen of Holland, two well-known exhibitors of hunters, had been secured as judges.

The general committee was busy early this week making final preparations for the show, one of the season's big events for Castle Park younger people.

Entries should be in by Thursday so that stabling arrangements can be made and must be in by that time if they are to appear on the program, the committee decided. It also planned to furnish transportation at a small cost for horses coming from the north shore.

Among the earliest to enter were Sonja Bouwman, Connie Boersma, Austin Brown, Mary Dean Nobel, Ellen Parsons, Arlene Vander Heuvel, Georgia White and Cynthia Schaap, who were not in the 1939 show and Margaret McLean, Jean Covell, Judy Hoffman and Jim McLean.

Sonja Bouwman, three-year-old Holland girl, is the youngest entry. She will ride in the horsemanship class for children under seven. Another young entry is Cynthia Schaap, five-year-old Holland girl who may enter all the horsemanship classes.

Events are listed under horsemanship and "gymkhana." Three classes in horsemanship will be for those seven years and under, for those 12 years and under and for those 18 years and under.

Under gymkhana are listed an egg in spoon race, musical chairs, a water-carrying race and "handiness handicap," a special feature for ponies only which is new this year. During the course of this event, the rider will saddle, lead, mount and dismount from his pony.

The handiness handicap is already a popular feature as all ponies that have entered the show have entered this division.

Misses McLean, Nobel, Jean Costen and Sally Robertson and Austin Brown and Gilbert Carter compose the general committee with Mrs. W. C. Carter and C. P. Brown as advisers.

JUDGE MILES WILL GIVE COPY OF AGED NOTICE TO MUSEUM

The Netherlands museum here is to be presented by Judge Fred T. Miles of the Ottawa-Allegan circuit with a photostatic copy of an Allegan county election notice of 1835.

The notice came to his attention through Miss Esther C. Warner, Allegan county clerk, who received the notice from Mrs. Cella Elliott, whose father, the late Martin T. Ryan, formerly published a newspaper in Allegan.

Mrs. Elliott found the notice among old papers belonging to her father who moved here in the 1860's.

The notice was dated Sept. 25, 1835, and was signed by John L. Shearer, township clerk at that time.

It said: "Notice is hereby given that a meeting of the electors of the township of Allegan and county of Allegan will be held at the usual place of holding township meetings in said township on Monday the 5th day of Oct. next at ten of the clock a.m. and on Tuesday the 6th day of Oct. next at the home of A. L. Ely, Esq., in the village of Allegan at eleven o'clock a.m. for the purpose of electing one governor, one Lt. governor one representative to congress, one member of the house of representatives of Michigan for the county of Allegan, and three senators for the third senatorial district composing the counties of Hillsdale, Branch, St. Joseph, Cass, Berrien, Calhoun, Kalamazoo and Allegan; and also to take into consideration the ratification or rejection of the constitution for the state of Michigan agreeable to the 9th article, Entitled Schedule of said Constitution. Dated at Allegan Sept. 25th, 1835."

WIERSEMA GETS FIRST OF CITY'S ARMY NUMBERS

Operation of Ratios When Assigning Positions
Is Explained

First of Questionnaires in Second Conscription Dispatched

Bernard Arendshorst, clerk of Holland draft board No. 1, announced today that questionnaires had been sent to ten youths with the lowest order numbers in the second draft.

These are the first questionnaires that have been sent out since June 10, he said. He also announced that, whereas five days were formerly given to return the questionnaires, ten days are now given.

The ten youths in order, to whom questionnaires were sent are Berton Gerald Wiersma, 1131 West 10th St.; Clifford C. Cunningham, 203 West Ninth St.; Marvin Van Dyke, 156 Central Ave.; Gerald Adrian Bax, 248 West 18th St.; John Van Zanten, 13 West 26th St.; Cecil Henry Yonker, 169 East Eighth St.; Keith Joseph Brieve, 13 East 19th St.; Kenneth William Deur, 226 West 17th St.; Phillip Austin Harrington, 237 Van Raalte Ave.

From news dispatches received from Washington, D. C., reporting on last Thursday's lottery to determine order numbers, it was learned that Berton Gerald Wiersma, 1131 West 10th St., will be assigned the first order number by the local board.

Wiersma had serial number 98 which was the second capsule to be drawn from the fish bowl. To Secretary of Navy Frank B. Knox goes the credit of drawing out Wiersma's serial number.

The first capsule contained serial number 196, and affected the selective service boards in Grand Haven and Allegan.

Order No. 1 thus will be assigned by the Grand Haven board, according to unofficial reports, to Dee G. Guilford, 4 Holland. Bertus Jay Lamer, 306 North State St., Zeeland, will receive Order No. 2 from Grand Haven. The first 10 order numbers, including the two listed above, follow:

No. 3, Ernest Ensing, route 2, Hudsonville; No. 4, Harvey Ethel Kamp, 244 Ottawa St., Zeeland; No. 5, Robert Martin Anyas of West Olive; No. 6, Joe Ludema, route 3, Hudsonville; No. 7, Martin LaMaire, 800 Pennoyer, Grand Haven; No. 8, Franklin Sturing, route 1, Zeeland; No. 9, Russell Louis Bolton, 230 Summit, Spring Lake; No. 10, George Henry Steingotter, route 2, Spring Lake.

Here's how draft registrants affected by Thursday night's lottery can determine when they may be classified and, if qualified, inducted into the army.

The order numbers drawn Thursday will be integrated proportionately into the order numbers remaining with the three boards from the first lottery. The starting point will be the order number of the last man inducted from the registrant's local board before midnight, June 30.

In the case of the Holland board, the last inductee's order number was 1316. The order numbers extend to 2,010, leaving about 694 registrants in the first draft.

By taking this number and dividing it by 104, the number of young men registered last July 1, the local board's ratio of 1 to 7, is thus obtained. The ratio for the No. 2 board, at Grand Haven (Ottawa county outside Holland city) is 1 to 9 and the ratio for the Allegan county board is 1 to 10.

Nelson Miles Placed on New Legislative Bureau

Holland Solon Chosen as Member of Advisory Board

In a letter from Fred Chase, secretary of the senate, Rep. Nelson Miles of Holland was notified Wednesday that he had been made a member of the advisory board of the new legislative service bureau set up by senate act 193.

For six years there has been a fight over this bureau, Mr. Miles said, and although other states have had such a bureau, this is the first one for Michigan.

The plan will make available to all state officers, legislators, agencies and other groups, a continuous working bureau on legislative business. It will provide a place for working out proposed laws without waiting for the legislature to do it. According to the new setup, any person can apply and have a bill properly prepared before the legislature meets.

Other members of the advisory board "which has general supervision and direction of the legislative service bureau created by the act" are: Senators D. Hale Brake and Joseph A. Baldwin, Rep. John P. Espie, E. R. Sunderland and Prof. E. B. Stason of Ann Arbor, Myler F. Gray, clerk of the house, M. Chase, clerk of the senate, and the director of the bureau. The advisory board will meet soon to select the director of the bureau.

Of this number 37 were selected as winners of $95 scholarships which can be applied in freshman work at Michigan State college.

The scholarships are made available by the state board of agriculture, governing body of the college. Among the 37 receiving these are 18 girls in clothing work and 18 boys in handicraft plus another boy in poultry. The honor roll names 67 boys in handicraft, six in poultry, and 100 girls who are completing work in clothing projects.

Ottawa county 4-H clubbers eligible for scholarships, announced by A. G. Kettunen, state club leader, are Jan Weener of route 4, Holland, and Floretta McNitt of Conklin. PROTEST FLAT PARKING IN G.H.

Grand Haven, July 24—This city is having its squabbles over parallel parking and a street widening project.

Merchants and businessmen of Washington St. appeared before the city council and protested a recent regulation calling for parallel parking. Most of the businessmen and a number of motorists had signed a petition which asked revival of angle parking.

Residents of streets recently designated by the council for widening appeared to protest council's action, pointing out that it is necessitated by increased traffic and that a traffic problem is primarily a concern of the municipality and most of the cost of widening should be borne by the city.

The question of whether parallel parking will be continued is scheduled for decision at a special meeting of council Thursday at 7 p.m. The parallel schedule was started on the main street of the business section less than a month ago. The merchants contend that difficulty of parking and the reduction of parking spaces are keeping customers from the downtown section.

TEMPERATURE AT 91

The temperature at 1:30 p.m. today rose to 91 degrees, according to official reports from the Fifth St. power station. Wednesday's maximum was 90 degrees and Tuesday's 94.

JAMES KROTTJE IS KILLED WHEN TRAIN HITS CAR

Wife Escapes With Face Cuts as Engine Hits
Rear of Auto

Vehicle Is Thrown Across Street; Investigation Is Started

Holland's first traffic fatality in over a year occurred Friday at 4 p.m. at the Pere Marquette crossing on East Eighth St., in a train-auto accident in which James Krottje, 72, route 2, Zeeland, was killed almost instantly.

Mrs. Krottje, who was the only other passenger riding with her husband, escaped with face lacerations and was fully conscious in the Holland hospital. Her condition was reported to be about the same as upon arrival.

Coroner Gilbert Vande Water said here, following his conference Tuesday with Ottawa county Prosecutor Howard Fant, that no inquest would be held into the death of Mr. Krottje.

He questioned Engineer Abbot, Fireman Hirsell and Conductor Davis, who were on the train at the time of the accident, at the Pere Marquette station Saturday noon.

The trainmen, who said they saw the car approaching when they were about 50 feet away, stated they expected the driver to stop the car any minute. The train, according to the crew and other witnesses, was traveling about 15 miles an hour, which was the same speed the car was traveling before the engine caught the auto's rear end.

Witnesses also said Mr. Vande Water reported, that warning bells were ringing and red lights were flashing at the crossing.

Mr. Krottje drove onto the crossing, it was believed, without ever having seen the train.

According to witnesses, Mr. Krottje's car had nearly cleared the crossing before the front end of the locomotive hit the rear end of the car, lifting it up about four feet and throwing it across the street where it locked bumpers with a car driven by Harry Plasman, 656 State St., who had stopped, waiting for the train to cross. The car came to rest against a Pere Marquette switch.

Mr. Plasman's car, which was headed west, was not damaged.

Mr. Krottje's car, according to Holland police, tipped over on its right side before coming to rest in an upright position. Mr. Krottje was thrown into the back part of the automobile and his body was wedged into the right rear window. Coroner Gilbert Vande Water expressed belief that Mr. Krottje's head was crushed between the pavement and the car when the car tipped over on its side.

Mrs. Krottje was found in a stooped position in the front seat and was placed in a sitting position by witnesses.

Mr. Krottje and his wife had lived at Jenison several years before moving to North Blenden on route 2, Zeeland, where they have lived for the past three or four years. Krottje was a farmer. Although moving to North Blenden, they maintained membership in Jenison Christian Reformed church.

His only immediate survivor is his wife. He is also survived by several nieces and nephews.

Holland's last fatal accident prior to Friday occurred May 30, 1940, when Norris Williams, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter A. Williams residing on West 32nd St., and John Koster, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Koster, route 1, were killed at the junction of Michigan and Washington Aves. and 32nd St.

CHICAGO RESIDENT DIES AT SAUGATUCK

Mrs. Rose Catinelli, 66, of Chicago, who was staying at Camp Grey, Saugatuck, was stricken with a heart attack and died suddenly Friday at 9:30 p.m.

The body was taken to the Dykstra funeral home and was to be removed to Chicago Monday.

She is survived by a daughter from Chicago and a son, who is in the service in California.

It is estimated that one out of every 20 trucks operating on the nation's highways is owned by the federal, state or local government.

Shown above are a portion of the 300 pheasants released in the southern half of Ottawa county Tuesday under the supervision of Conservation Officer Forrest Lavy as an annual project of the Holland Pointer and Setter club and the Holland Fish and Game club. The birds hatched in Zeeland and raised by Martin Dunning, 130 East 18th St., will be six weeks old when released. The local clubs obtained 500 eggs from the state game farm at Mason and about 65 per cent of these eggs were successfully hatched. Originally scheduled to be released Saturday, the date was changed because of "wet grounds." The above picture shows the young pheasants in their run.

Draftee Finds Cigarettes From Last World War

Camp Sam Luis Obispo, Cal., July 24—John Visser, a draft selectee from Holland, Mich., is proudly exhibiting a package of cigarettes, dated 1918, which he found in the cartridge belt assigned to him.

The cigarettes were in pretty good condition although the color was out of the tobacco.

NUMBERS FOR SECOND DRAFT

Following is the corrected list of serial numbers as they were drawn in the second conscription lottery in Washington Thursday. Although the list at first may appear complicated, the new selectees may determine his order number by counting the numbers across, row by row, until he comes to his serial number.

However, as board No. 2 in Grand Haven has 349 July 1 selectees, all numbers higher than 349 have been eliminated from the total of 800 as drawn in Washington. Thus, selectees under the Grand Haven board need only count across, but selectees under Holland board No. 1—with only 104 new names—must first count out all numbers above 104 before starting their count. Allegan county selectees, totaling 280, must follow the same procedure.

A POLL WORTH WHILE

Congressman Paul W. Shafer of the third Michigan district, which includes Calhoun, Kalamazoo, Branch, Eaton and Hillsdale counties, is conducting a poll of his constituents in regard to their stand on American participation in the war. Mr. Shafer wants to know from first-hand information what the people of his district want, to guide him in the votes he is being called upon to cast in congress on the various questions connected with the war.

That is one poll that would seem to be worth while. And Mr. Shafer's plan would seem to be one way of actually getting objectively at the sentiment, not of politicians but of the people of America. If every congressman could conduct a similar poll, each in his own district, a simple exercise in arithmetic would give a fairly good picture of what the voters of this country want.

It ought to be possible for each congressman to do such a job inexpensively. If ever the franking privilege is justified it is in such an enterprise; there can be few things more important at this time than accurate objective information about the sentiment of the American people on the question of war or no war.

Such a poll would of course not be absolutely accurate, but even at its very worst it would be much more accurate than the loose statements about public sentiments that are daily made in Washington on the basis of wishful thinking—statements on which important policies are based. It is rock-bottom information that is wanted, and such a poll in each congressional district would get nearer to that than anything that has yet been attempted.

A poll like that would of course have no legal standing. Nor would it be necessary that it have such standing. Even with the most liberal deductions for a margin of error, the poll would add up to a pretty good indication of how the American people feel at this moment. With that information at his command each congressman—and each senator as well—could go ahead and cast his votes in Washington in the usual legal way.
The poll would not bind him in any way; if he so desired, and had the courage, he could vote in direct opposition to the sentiment of his district. But at any rate congress and the administration could not pretend that they did not know what the people want.

Such a poll would be as fair to interventionists as to those who wish to keep out of the war. Congressman Shafer has an idea that is worthy of being tested on a much wider scale.

THE CHURCH INVITES YOU

Back to God

World religious leaders are united in stating that whatever judgment may be formed regarding the proper procedure in settling world difficulties, it will not be denied that behind them all lies the human element. Men lost their hold on spiritual realities and have too often not realized their need of them. They have brought to accept as substitutes the supremacy of nation, race or class, rather than the sovereignty of God and the brotherhood of man as taught by Jesus Christ. The answer is back to God.

Why not accept the invitation and go to church next Sunday?

The Holy Spirit Inspires New Testament Writers

Galatians 1:11, 12:1 Thessalonians 2:13, 2 Timothy 3:14-17; 2 Peter 3:14-18; Jude 2

By Henry Geerlings

In the lesson material under study today Scripture is taken from five New Testament letters.
Two of these are certainly from the pen of Paul. Another probably contains a part of Paul's personal correspondence with Timothy. The authorship of the others is more in dispute.

Of all the writers whose work is preserved in the New Testament, none has given us more than the apostle Paul. In the art of letter writing he was an artist.
In this he was pressed by his great concern for the faith of the churches in whose founding he had been unceasingly vigilant. He was also goaded by his almost fathomless capacity to be interested in persons. All of his letters were written with practical problems in view, as indeed, were all the letters in the New Testament. If we gain an insight into the practical problem which provoked the writing of the letters we are studying, together with an understanding of the situation to which they were written, we shall be more adequately equipped to appreciate them.

It must be as clear to us as it was to the apostle himself that the gospel he preached to the Galatians was not of man's own making. It has the quality of divinity about it. Paul did not learn it at the feet of his great teacher, Gamaliel; nor did it come to him as he was studying old manuscripts. It was not a human affair. He did not become a preacher because some one told him to do so. He was called of God to the ministry. He was given the message to preach. There was no doubt in his mind that it was from God himself. If he had not believed that he would have been a failure in his work.

It is possible for the preacher to believe the word he preaches to be the word of God while his hearers believe otherwise. But in the case of the Thessalonians both believed the same thing.
They thanked God that this was the case. No army of men could have convinced them that the word they had heard was of human origin. It was a revelation from God. They knew that because of the difference it made in their lives. It was a message they never before had heard, and it brought them an experience the like of which they had never before known. When all is said it must be admitted that this is the best evidence that the Bible is the word of God.

Paul talked to Timothy as though he were his father. He was his spiritual father, and that brought them very close. The apostle was about to suffer martyrdom, and then the young man would be alone in the world, without the guidance of his strong and wise teacher. The apostle must have known that the separation would come and he wanted to encourage young Timothy by urging him to abide in the faith, for so many had slipped back.

We are not to overlook the warning. Whatever the cost in personal sacrifice, Timothy was to stand fast in the truth. And he would be encouraged to do that when he remembered the love and sacrifice of those who had been his teachers.

When Paul referred to all scripture, or every scripture, he had in mind the Old Testament primarily, for very little of the New Testament had so far been written, and certainly not yet assembled and approved as the word of God. However, that word was abroad and men were believing it and being saved by it, so that the message of Jesus was without doubt included in the word scripture. The apostle was here thinking of the profitable-ness of the message God had given to the world. The Old Testament portion of it he too had known from a child, and now he had come to add to it the revelation that had been made through Jesus Christ. Once he was perfectly willing to reject Christ and all he had stood for, but now he was the soul of all revelation, including the Jewish Scriptures.

Would the Lord return, or would he not? That subject was hotly debated in those days. Some argued that, since he had not yet come back, and there were few signs that he would return soon, therefore his promises were of no effect, and the belief in his return should be abandoned. Peter took the opposite view, holding that the long-suffering of the Lord, that is, his delayed return, was evidence that he wanted them to work out more perfectly their salvation; and, what is more, it would give those who had not yet accepted him as their Savior a chance to do so. The delay of his return is not to be interpreted as the cancellation of his promise to come again, but a mark of his added mercy. Peter evidently intended to give further evidence of the patience of God.

Usually we do not pay much attention to the little book of Jude. It is limited to but one chapter. Most of what it contains may be found in other parts of the New Testament. However, what is said is important. It had its mission. There seemed to be running through the church at that time the willingness to abandon the faith. That of course has always been true. But Jude, who was the brother of one of the men by the name of James in the New Testament, felt there was a particular peril in that direction at this time.

Holland Cocker Puppy
Wins First at S.L. Show

Non Quitt New Hope, a black female cocker owned by Paul Fredrickson, Sr., of Central park, won first in the puppy class at the fourth annual all-breed dog show sponsored by the West Michigan Kennel club at Spring Lake Country club last week-end.

by the child handling class and the obedience trial class.

Kleight O'Aragon was also judged best of his group in the sporting breed. An Afghan hound of the Kerrin Kennel of Indianapolis, Ind., was named best of the hound groups while a German shepherd owned by Mrs. M. Nickel of Chicago was judged to be the best in the working dog classification.

Miss Michels Invited to Attend Fete at Mackinac

Mackinac Island, July 24—Senatoria Christina Michels, daughter of the Chilean ambassador and queen of the National Cherry festival, has been invited to be a guest of honor at the Mackinac Island festival Friday, Saturday, and Sunday.

Miss Michels, who was fete at the recent Traverse City festival would share the spotlight with Miss Mary Gillespie, cameo queen of the festival. Miss Gillespie is the daughter of the president of the Mackinac Island Carriage Drivers' association.

Mackinac Island, named as the most historic place in Michigan by the Daughters of the American Revolution, is brushing up its dooryard without disturbing its charm or destroying the atmosphere of historical lore, which fascinates every visitor to the island. Nothing in the program of beautification will interfere with the beauty which nature has bestowed upon this romantic isle.

The park and harbor commission is completing the first phase of its plan of beautifying approaches to the island, and creating recreational facilities for the pleasure of visitors. The commission's program includes preserving and restoring buildings of historic interest, around which centered the life of the community in the departed days of the fur empire. Sites of other buildings, which time has obliterated, but which played an important part in the island's entrancing history, will be properly marked.

In the project is the restoration of the famous old John Jacob Astor house, first headquarters of the American Fur Co., where the Astor fortune was founded. This building is still standing in the heart of the island's business district.
Following the liquidation of the Astor interests in the northwest, the building was used as a hotel for many years. It is now a community center and contains an interesting museum of fur-trading days.

The landing pier in the harbor, over which many thousands of passengers from tour ships and ferries from the mainland have entered the island, has been acquired by the park and harbor commission.
It has been converted from a landmark of other days into a modern wharf. The under-structure has been strengthened with new piling and steel girders and the entire pier has been re-decked with concrete surfacing. The dock offices and warehouses have been painted white and put in repair in time for the present summer season. A recreational pier at the extreme end of the long wharf will have comfortable seats, gay sun shelters, chairs and tables. From this place, the entrancing islands in the glistening waters of the Straits of Mackinac open a vista of rare charm. On the shore side the gleaming white ramparts of Old Fort Mackinac and the green of the island highlands stand in bold relief.

All the tour ships and most of the mainland ferry boats moor at the new wharf. Modernization of the municipal pier is one of the most important completed projects of the park and harbor commission. It is from this point that thousands of tourists and permanent summer visitors get their first impression of historic Mackinac and that impression will hereafter be good.

To further increase the charm of the island's dooryard, the commission has secured title to a number of parcels of waterfront vacant lots. These pieces of land, directly fronting the water and bordering the main business street in the downtown section, have been converted into parks. They have been landscaped under plans made by Jens Jensen, nationally known landscape architect, who designed much of the six million dollar Chicago parkway system.

Much of this part of the longtime program has been completed.
Vacant, neglected spaces have been transformed into pretty parks, with green lawns, planted with native trees and shrubs. Before the season ends most of the old buildings, survivors of the trading post era, will be restored and renovated with paint brush and scrub brush. The Biddle house, oldest house on the island, long unoccupied and neglected, is included in the restoration program.
The Old Mission church, oldest Protestant church in the northwest, with its high pulpit, its straight pews and its round New England cupola, is opened for visitors.

The Mission house, opened by the Rev. William M. Ferry and his New England bride in 1821 as a school for Indians, has been kept in a good state of repair. It was for many years a favorite hotel.
Many famous guests have enjoyed its hospitality and Edward Everett Hale is said to have written much of "The Man Without a Country" there.

The old Indian agency below the fort has long since disappeared, but the site is to be properly marked. It was here that Henry G. Schoolcraft, historian, explorer and student of Indian languages, lived with his educated Indian wife, while serving as U. S.
Indian agent.

An important immediate project is the long promenade along the west beach, extending from the downtown section to a point beyond the Grand hotel. From this walk there is an unobstructed view of the Straits of Mackinac.
Nearly every day the City of St.
Ignace and Mackinac City across the strait, are in clear view as are the mainland headlands.

Islands many miles away break the horizon. From this point there unfolds a panorama of passing cargo ships, a never-ending procession, day and night. As darkness shuts down over the Straits region, the flashing lights from many beacons gleam over the water. An improved bathing beach will be constructed in connection with the promenade project.

Several clay tennis courts are under construction on an 18 acre tract, adjoining the grounds of the Grand hotel. These will be open to the public and placed against a background of native trees this will be one of the show places of the island.

The entire program is being financed by a bond issue, voted by the citizens of the City of Mackinac Island and approved by the state legislature. While the project is not connected with the Mackinac Island State park commission, a state agency, it has full cooperation of the state board, which supervises the Mackinac Island State park and Old Fort Mackinac.

The park and harbor commission, in full charge of the improvement project, is composed of O. W.
Lang, chairman; W. S. Wood-fill, vice-chairman; Peter G. S.
Mero, secretary; Carl Couchois, treasurer; Robert Doud, superintendent; Mackinac State park member; W. F. Doyle, resident commissioner; Mackinac Island State park, advisory member; and Dan S. Perry, superintendent.

Increased allotments for domestic beet sugar processors made by the U. S. agriculture department total 116,425 short tons, raw value. The increased allotments grew out of action of the department last week enlarging the total 1941 marketing quotas for sugar from all areas by 502,002 tons.

The quota of the domestic beet area was increased from 1,652,571 to 1,768,996 tons.

EIGHTY NOW IN G.H. CCC CAMP

Grand Haven, July 24—Increased by enrollment of 17 young men in the past 10 days, five from Muskegon county and four from Ottawa county, Camp Grand Haven C.C.C. company now numbers 80 enrollees, half the 160 of five months ago and even a smaller percentage compared with the 200 normal strength which the camp had until the national defense program began to draw men from the corps.

Lieut. Robert S. Thomas, commanding officer, said most of the present enrollees were about 17 years old, older men having gone into industry or the army or navy. A former enrollee from Grand Rapids called at camp wearing a sergeant's insignia, gained during the short time he has been in the army.

Lieut. Thomas pointed out that men from Ottawa or Muskegon county who desire to enroll but do not want to go far from home, may obtain assignment to Camp Grand Haven. Enrollment in the corps is considerably more attractive now than when it was organized due to increased educational advantages offered under the national defense program and different pay schedules.

The pay remains at $30 monthly but only $15 is sent home, $8 is paid the enrollee and $7 is deposited to be given him upon discharge. Enrollment is for six months with discharge before that time if the enrollee obtains employment. Applicants for the C.C.C. must be 17 to 23 years old.

Leadership at Camp Grand Haven is unchanged except for recent assignment of William L. Osborne, formerly at Wellston, as educational advisor. Lieut. James Vander Bilt is subaltern or second in command of the company and Gordon Walker heads the soil conservation service supervisory staff.

SUNDAY DINNER Suggestions

In selecting your fruits and vegetables for your Sunday menu—or for your everyday menu—for that matter—it is wise to consider the vitamin content, which the government is stressing as a part of its nutrition service.

The largest of the food chains is lending its assistance to the nutrition program with small leaflets which list all the important fruits and vegetables with their vitamins and also give recipes for ways to use fresh foodstuffs.

Among the most attractively priced fruits for the week-end are early new varieties of apples, bananas, honeydew melons, cantaloupes, peaches, California oranges, lemons, plums and watermelons. The lower priced vegetables include beets, beans, celery, corn, cucumbers, romaine, escarole, new onions, peas, peppers, potatoes, squash and tomatoes.

Meat prices are showing a slightly upward trend and beef remains the best buy. There is little change in the price of poultry.

Marion Rouse Budd, director of the city kitchens, has prepared the following menus as suggestions for Sunday dinners:

Low Cost Dinner
Swiss Steak
Creamed Sweet Corn
Parried Potatoes
Bread and Butter
Iced Watermelon
Hot or Iced Tea

Medium Cost Dinner
Jellied Consomme
Lamb Patties
Creamed Potatoes
New Peas
Bread and Butter
Iced Cantaloupe
Hot or Iced Tea

Very Special Dinner
Stuffed Celery
Rolled Rib Roast
Whipped Potatoes
Fresh Succotash
Cucumber and Tomato Salad Fresh Pineapple Ice with Cookies Hot or Iced Coffee

ALL NOT LOST, ROTARY TOLD

Today, confused as we are, there are still things that remain, and we should be particularly interested in hanging on to those things that remain," Dr. E. E. Carr, Episcopal rector of Chicago told members of the Holland Rotary club at their noon luncheon in the Castle park hotel last Thursday.

"We are living in one of the blackest times of all human history," he said, "but we can say to our world just as the Apostle John could say to the struggling Christian church at Sardis, 'Be steadfast, strengthen the things that remain.'"

Five things, he enumerated, remain for us: First, sanctity of human personality; second, mastery over the world in which we live through our mechanical slaves; third, our sense of honor; fourth, an abiding sense of the brotherhood of man; fifth, the conviction that the way of life Christ taught is the way to happy, successful and creative living.

The sanctity of personality was particularly emphasized by the Chicago rector. "The real you is not your mind or your body," he pointed out, "but your personality, and that is a very sacred thing. Our first duty is to develop our personality."

"We stand in sharp contrast, he said, to the totalitarian state which says that it will mold personality."

Dr. Carr took his theme from the book of Revelation which John wrote, he said, not to predict events which were to come to pass but to describe events then taking place, to advise the seven struggling churches to remain firm and to encourage them.

Revelation, which was written in code and which has fascinated men ever since, was written in such general terms that anyone can read anything into it, he explained. The "beast whose head had been wounded" meant Nero at the time the book was written, he pointed out. Today, he added, some people think the beast is Hitler, before they thought it was the Kaiser and before that, Napoleon.

SAYS SHORTAGE OF OIL IS ONLY ON EAST COAST

Tulsa Chamber in Letter Here States Issue Is Transportation

According to a letter from the Tulsa, Okla., Chamber of Commerce, addressed to the Holland Chamber of Commerce, the threat of an oil shortage in this country applies only to the Atlantic coast and the rest of the country should have no fears.

"Much 'loose' talk is current about the shortage of petroleum and petroleum products and the necessity for rationing oil and gasoline."

"This unfortunate impression has arisen from the fact that the United States government requisitioned a number of oil tankers previously engaged in carrying oil from the gulf coastal ports to the Atlantic coast. These ships were put into the service of supplying Great Britain."

"Thus there was created the threat of a shortage in one consuming area of the country, the Atlantic coast. Plans are now being worked out for better utilization of remaining tankers, still a large fleet, more effective use of rail facilities and construction of new pipelines which give promise of reducing to minor proportions even the threat to the Atlantic coast."

"There is no shortage of petroleum. The bottleneck is one of transportation to one area. There are adequate reserves underground, stocks aboveground, refining capacity and, except for the Atlantic coast, adequate transportation facilities. And, as stated, plans are now being put into execution which will, it is expected, within a reasonable time furnish the Atlantic Coast its usual supply of petroleum."

Loss was estimated at $2,000. The surrounding area was threatened for a time when the fire spread into the fields and nearly reached a nearby field of shocked bats. Neighbors and passersby fought the flames bringing the blaze under control with furrows. The Allendale fire department succeeded in saving all other buildings. A silo filled grain binder, cattle truck, and an automobile burned with the barn. A neighbor who was working nearby saw flames on all sides of the barn in the beginning caused a general belief, fire was due to combustion.

DUTCHMEN SINK MUSKEGON NINE BY 6 TO 3 COUNT

Club Held to Four Hits; Van Wieren Drives in Two Runs

The Holland Flying Dutchmen resumed their string of home victories in Riverview park Monday night, nipping Smith's team of Muskegon, one of the youngest ball clubs in this area, 6-3.

The Hollanders led all the way after scoring three runs on an early home run by Van Wieren. They also scored twice in the sixth and once in the seventh.

Climax of all their eight hits was Lefty Van Wieren's swat to center field in the sixth which drove in both Brenner, who had singled there, and Cecil Serier, who had walked. Van Wieren was put out at the plate when he tried to stretch it into a homer.

Harry Nykerk scored last in the eighth on the second baseman's error after singling to center.

After Van Wieren's long, tiring run in the sixth, he was replaced in the seventh by Bob Vanden Berg, having pitched to two men in that inning and allowing both to reach base. Vanden Berg retired the side, allowing one more run and leaving two on base. Johnson, right fielder, brought in this last run.

Van Wieren gave four hits.

struck out nine and walked three while Wiersema gave eight hits, struck out six, all in the first four innings, and walked six. Vanden Berg gave out no hits, struck out two and walked one.

Van Wieren and De Neff both singled to start off the third. Lloyd Driscoll's single to right field drove them both in and put Wenzel, who had walked, on third. Wenzel also scored on an error by the right fielder.

Gale of Muskegon walked in the sixth and scored on Sieradski's double to center. Sieradski also scored on a single.

Van Wieren led the Holland team at bat, giving two hits, a triple and a single out of three trips to the plate. Johnson led Muskegon with two hits out of four tries.

LILLIAN SHOP UP ON STYLES

With hair styles changing every season, it's fun to see just what can be done in the way of a new hair do. Those who never thought of having their hair style changed before are advised to call the Lillian Beauty shop for an appointment and just see what experienced operators can do.

Mrs. Lillian Annis, proprietor of the beauty shop, states that they have dozens of new styles from which to choose. Through years of experience they know just what is right.

The Lillian Beauty shop employs four operators and its service includes all lines of beauty culture, permanents, manicures, shampoo-set, facials, hair tinting and massages. Mrs. Annis adds that the prices maintained by her shop are always reasonable and only by giving her shop a fair trial will the complete satisfaction of its service be realized.

Fennville, July 24 (Special) — Three youths, Carl Johnson, 16, Floyd Traylor, 18, and Charles Bandegriff, 16, transient fruit pickers here, reported to be from Mancelona, are recovering in Allegan Health center where they were taken following a collision of their car with a Pere Marquette northbound passenger train Friday night. PUSH WORK AT WARM FRIEND

In the month which has elapsed since the American Hotels Corp. assumed the management of the Warm Friend tavern, the results of the clean-up campaign are already becoming apparent and the entire lower lobby and entrances to the Bier Kelder have already been completely redecorated and work is continuing on elevators, elevator doors and elevator lobbies on the guest floors. As soon as this work is completed, decoration of the individual guest rooms will start.

Outer entrances have been improved and some lobby arrangements changed to enhance the already attractive main floor of the hotel. It is the intention of the management to continue this program until the Warm Friend tavern can advertise, without contradiction, that it is "the cleanest hotel in Michigan." C. S. Walz, Jr., the manager of the hotel preserve its Dutch tradition for cleanliness and that the main impression carried away by visitors shall be one of scrupulous spotlessness and efficient service.

Careful attention is being given to all details of service to the public in an effort to provide maximum efficiency.

The excellence of the food at the Warm Friend tavern, prepared under the direction of Chef Charles Kuhnee, is already becoming a byword among travelers. It is the determination of Mr. Kuhnee and the management that there shall be no compromise in the quality of food used in their kitchens.

The public is invited to inspect the improvements being made at the Warm Friend tavern, since it is desired that the citizens of Holland shall be justly proud of their community hotel.

Pastor Assumes Duties at Zion Lutheran Church

The Rev. Gerhard Luebke has assumed his duties as pastor of Zion Lutheran church, following his ordination and installation a week ago Sunday night.

The new minister was graduated in June of this year from Concordia seminary in St. Louis, Mo., where he attained highest scholastic honors. He also received the Lutheran Laymen's League award which is given by the seminary faculty for outstanding scholarship, leadership and Christian character.

During his years at the seminary in St. Louis, Rev. Luebke was also very active in various musical organizations, notably the St. Louis Bach choir, the Concordia Seminary chorus and the nationally known Lutheran Hour chorus.

Before his graduating from Concordia seminary, the minister served one year as assistant pastor of Mt. Calvary Lutheran church in St. Louis, Mo., and another year as assistant to his father at Trinity Lutheran church in Muskegon. In the latter place he also served as teacher of the parochial school and as organist and choirmaster.

Rev. Luebke took his preparatory training at Concordia college in Milwaukee, Wis., being graduated from that school in 1936. Here also he won high honors, being chosen valedictorian of his class with a straight-A average. Besides being president of his class, he was chapel organist and a leader in various musical organizations and in college athletics.

At the local church he succeeds the Rev. Theodore Zeile who has accepted a new charge in Manistee.

The Rev. W. F. Luebke of Muskegon, father of the newly ordained pastor, was in charge of the installation. He was assisted in the ceremony by Rev. W. Wangerin of Grand Rapids, Rev. V. Felten of Grand Haven, Rev. A. Knoll of Nunica and Rev. E. Lang of Grand Rapids. In his address, the elder Luebke pointed out the necessity for the preaching of the gospel, stressing especially the great need for such preaching under present conditions and pointing out also the difficulties under which it must be carried on. A reception followed in the church basement.

Large Crowd Attends Outdoor Hymn Sing

The largest crowd ever to attend an outdoor hymn sing in Holland gathered Sunday night at Kollen park. The largest crowd previously had been 5,000.

Gilbert Van Wynen was the song leader and he and his daughter provided special vocal music. Instrumental and vocal music was furnished by a trio. The mission orchestra accompanied the singing. Supt. George Trotter welcomed the crowd and spoke briefly.

An amplifying system was hooked up with speakers all over the field. The program closed with the singing of "America." All available parking space was taken in and around the park.

Nick Ver Hey, president of the Young Married People's class of the City Mission which sponsors the outdoor events, announced that Evangelist Walter Mac Donald (Happy Mac) will be the leader at the next hymn sing in the park August 10. William Mokma, teacher of the class, closed with prayer.

BROKER LISTS YIELD LEVIES

Lansing, July 22 (UP)—John W. Libcke, new chairman of the state tax commission, reported today that more than $5,000 in intangible taxes had been collected during the past two weeks from persons discovered to be customers of Detroit brokerage houses.

Libcke said the persons, who failed to make out returns on stocks and bonds in their possession, had been discovered by tax department investigators who obtained access to brokerage house records under a commission subpoena.

Libcke said the commission has three years in which to discover evasions of the tax, and that eventually brokerage house lists in every city in the state would be examined. Penalties for evasion are being computed on the basis of taxes collected.

Washington, July 24—Rep. Fred Bradley has announced that the coast guard contemplated closing no stations on the Great Lakes during the present navigation season.

"It is true that there have been marked, and in some instances almost drastic reductions in the trained personnel, which has been occasioned entirely by the present war emergency, but these situations are being rectified as rapidly as possible," The Rogers City Republican said.
